INTRODUCTION

- What does your library do well? How do you know?
- How could your library improve? How do you know?
- How does your library's performance compare to that of other libraries in the state?
- Does having a higher materials budget lead to higher circulation?
- It sure felt busy this year, but how can we make a clear case for more staff?

All of these questions can be answered in part by using the statistics your library collects every year. Review your library's statistics over time to see trends such as increased circulation or decreases in non-tax income. You may be able to identify correlations between "inputs" (such as income or number of books owned) and "outputs" such as visits or reference transactions. You may also be able to identify events that occurred in your community or at your library that affected library use, such as library building expansion, grants received, or new senior housing.

Using comparative data

Beyond reviewing local statistics and trends, you may also want to compare your library's statistics to those of libraries serving populations of similar size. This process may offer clues to your library's strengths and weaknesses and help you evaluate your library's performance in serving its public. It may also suggest reasonable, measurable objectives for long range planning and help you develop and justify a realistic budget.

When comparing your library's statistics to those of other libraries, it is crucial to consider context – community character, library history, and tradition. As you use the statistics in this Supplement, remember that Vermont's public libraries and the towns they serve vary a great deal. Some libraries officially serve relatively small populations but actually serve larger surrounding areas or large seasonal populations. Some libraries serving small populations receive large tax appropriations; others serving a similar population rely on interest from large endowments for the bulk of their operating costs. Community libraries (joint school-public libraries) sometimes report tax support from municipal and school sources, while some report only tax support from municipal sources.

In using the data, it is important to remember that some libraries count things in different ways, and differing local practices and policies have bearing on resulting statistics. For example, some libraries count actual visitors each day to achieve an annual count; others count visitors using a sampling method, making a concerted effort to count daily visitors during selected weeks through the year. The latter method may actually result in more accurate statistics. Library loan periods (one month, three weeks, two weeks, etc.), methods of renewal, and the inclusion or exclusion of uncataloged paperbacks all impact on a library's total circulation. Caveat emptor!

National sources about statistics

These statistics are but one tool in an ongoing self-evaluation process that all libraries should engage in. Regardless of size, a useful source of further information on the collection and use of public library statistics is Output Measures for Public Libraries: A Manual of Standardized Procedures, 2nd ed. (ALA, 1989).

Some of the information including in this Supplement is broken down by age (adult and juvenile) in response to requests from librarians. Librarians interested in exploring the performance of their children's services will find Output Measures for Public Library Service to Children: A Manual of Standardized Procedures (ALA, 1992) also helpful. Both Output Measures manuals are available on interlibrary loan through the Department of Libraries.

Libraries wishing to find comparative statistics from peer libraries around the country may do so by using the National Center for Education Statistics' Peer Comparison Tool, available at <http://nces.ed.gov/surveys/libraries/compare/index.asp?LibraryType=Public>.

How this publication is organized

It is thanks to the continuing effort of local librarians and their staffs that we are able to publish this 2006 annual Supplement to the Biennial Report of the Vermont Department of Libraries. This Supplement includes most of the statistics submitted by the state's 188 public libraries and is arranged alphabetically by town and by population served. Data is for the fiscal year ending somewhere between December 31, 2004, and June 30, 2005.

The format of this Supplement is similar to that of previous Supplements. Users should start with the first chart which serves as an index by listing all the public libraries alphabetically by town name. This first chart lists the town, library name, population served, square footage of facility, number of hours open weekly in winter, and when the library's fiscal year ended. Libraries that did not report data were not included this year.

Succeeding charts are arranged by population served, based on the 2004 estimates of the U.S. Census. If a library receives tax funds from more than one town, those populations have been added as the library's population served. If there is more than one library in a town, the town's population may be divided among the libraries. For more information, see "Libraries with adjusted populations" (p. 11). The population categories are:

- Public libraries serving over 5,000 population
- Public libraries serving 2,500-4,999 population
- Public libraries serving 1,000-2,499
- Public libraries serving under 1,000 population

Libraries in each population category are arranged alphabetically by town. Each population category contains the following charts:

- Staffing, square feet of building, hours open
- Income for the fiscal year ending somewhere between 12/31/04 and 6/30/05
- Expenses for the fiscal year ending somewhere between 12/31/04 and 6/30/05
- Holdings - books
- Holdings - other materials
- Services - hours open weekly in winter, registrations, visits, reference transactions
- Circulation and interlibrary loan
- Programming and outreach
- Computers and computer-based services

More extensive definitions of the terms used are included on the following pages, and there is a brief key on each chart.

This data is also available on the Department of Libraries website: <http://dol.state.vt.us/>. Libraries should feel free to download and manipulate it for customized reports. ## 2004-2005 STATISTICAL ROUNDUP

Vermont public library statistics bear out what local librarians were feeling: public libraries were busier in 2004-2005! Grant funds for programs, audio-visual materials, and technology helped to increase circulation and program attendance. Expanded outreach services including new bookmobiles also increased deliveries to individual homes, day care providers, and other community locations.

Libraries with adjusted populations, 2006

This year all populations served were changed and reflect the 2004 estimates of the US Census Bureau (available at <http://crs.uvm.edu>). Many public libraries exclusively serve the town or city in which they are located. Others serve more than one town, and the populations are added together to obtain the population served. This is the case with Barre City and Town, Jericho and Underhill, Newport City and Town, and St. Albans City and Town. In Essex, the town population is divided between the Essex Free Library and the Brownell Library in Essex Junction because there is an official population for the village of Essex Junction.

Several public libraries receive appropriations from neighboring towns annually. Some added supporting towns and some lost them in the past year, and the populations served have been adjusted to reflect increases or decreases. These libraries include:

Arlington (pop. 2,499) + Sandgate (347) + Sunderland (884) = 3,730

Barton (pop. 1,410) + half of Westmore (census pop. = 323) = 1,571

Barton/Orleans (pop. 1,502) + half of Westmore (323) + Brownington (904) = 2,568

The population served by these two libraries in the same town (pop. 2912) is calculated by adding half of the population outside of the incorporated villages of Barton (pop. 759) and Orleans (pop. 850) to each village population.

Bennington (pop. 15,473) + two-thirds of Shaftsbury (3,753) + Woodford (400) = 18,375

North Bennington (pop. 1,381) + one-third of Shaftsbury (3,753) = 2,632
604850 = 5,741

Brandon (pop. 3,942) + Leicester (1,028) + Sudbury (604) = 5,574

Castleton (pop. 4,355) + Hubbardton (772) = 5,127

Derby (pop. 2,292) + Charleston (912) + Morgan (729) = 3,933

The population served by the two libraries in the same town (pop. 4,830) is calculated by adding half of the population outside of the incorporated villages of Derby Center (pop. 692) and Derby Line (pop. 796) to each village population. Thus, the library in Derby Line serves 2,462.

Hartford – Town population = 10,698

There are three libraries in the town, all receiving some town funds. The total population of the town has been divided among the libraries based on the percentage of town funds each library receives. This results in the following populations: Hartford (23%) – 2,462 population; Quechee and its Wilder branch (48%) – 5,135; West Hartford (29%) – 3,103.

Hinesburg (pop. 4,427) + one-half of St. George (pop. 688) = 4,771

Lyndon (pop. 5,587) + Sheffield (729) + Wheelock (621) + Burke (1,658) + Newark (469) + Sutton (1,057) = 10,021

Montpelier (pop. 8,013) + Berlin (2,886) + Calais (1,542) + East Montpelier (2,657) + Middlesex (1,808) + Worcester (888) = 17,794.

Berlin did not support this library in 2004-05, but its population has been included at the request of the library.

Randolph (pop. 5,031) + Braintree (1,229) = 6,260

Richford (pop. 2,339) + Berkshire (1,516) = 3,855

Rutland (city pop. 17,080 + town pop. 4,108) + Ira (453) + Mendon (1,064) + Tinmouth (605) = 23,310

Troy (pop. 1,676) + Jay (453) = 2,129

PUBLIC LIBRARIES SERVING OVER 5,000 POPULATION

There are 33 libraries serving populations over 5,000 in Vermont. Statistics for branch libraries in East Barre, East Middlebury, Hartford/Wilder, and Waterbury are also included with those of libraries in Barre, Middlebury, and Hartford/Quechee respectively. Statistics for the bookmobiles serving Franklin-Grand Isle and Windham Counties are not included. Several larger libraries serve more than one town, and the populations of all of the towns providing tax support are included as the population served and are used for calculating per capita values.

Some significant facts:

- 65% of Vermont's public librarians holding MLS degrees work in libraries serving over 5,000; 55.5% of all public library staff work in these libraries which also engaged 35% of the total volunteer hours in 2004-05.
- The average per capita tax support for these libraries is $22.40, with a range of $2.74 (Jericho) to $56.73 (Essex Junction). The state average of public libraries receiving tax support is $15.78.
- The average per capita total expenditure is $28.04, with a range of $3.77 (Jericho) to $65.14 (St. Johnsbury). The state average is $24.27.
- 45% of the books owned by Vermont public libraries are held in those serving over 5,000. These larger libraries spent an average of $3.27 per capita on their collections, as compared to the state average of $3.40.
- 61% of all visits to Vermont public libraries are to those serving over 5,000. These libraries also account for 64% of the circulation and 42.5% of the interlibrary loans received.
- The commonly-held feeling that libraries that spend a lot on materials reap benefits in circulation is borne out by Middlebury's statistics; the library spent the most on materials - $7.58 - and circulated the highest number of items per capita - 20.86.
- It is interesting to note which libraries are "net interlibrary loan lenders," those that lend more items than receive them: Barre, Brattleboro, Burlington, Colchester, Essex, Essex Junction, Middlebury, Milton, Northfield, and Williston, with Essex surpassing the rest in numbers.

PUBLIC LIBRARIES SERVING 2,500-4,999 POPULATION

There are 41 libraries serving populations between 2,500 and 4,999 in Vermont. Statistics for the Waterbury Center branch library are included with those of Waterbury Public. The Fairfax Community Library is a "community" library, serving as both a public and a school library. Data for the North Thetford Library was not submitted and, therefore, not included this year.

Some significant facts:

- 22% of Vermont's public librarians holding MLS degrees work in libraries serving 2,500-4,999, and 23% of all public library staff work in these libraries which also engaged 21% of the total volunteer hours in 2004-05.
- The average per capita tax support for these libraries is $15.17, with a range of $0.93 (Westminster West) to $64.58 (Stowe). The state average of public libraries receiving tax support is $15.78. All of the libraries serving this population received some tax support in 2004-05.
- The average per capita total expenditure is $23.79 for libraries serving 2,500-4,999, with a range of $3.95 (Westminster West) and $3.99 (Pownal) to $71.35 (Stowe). The state average is $24.27.
- 23% of the books owned by Vermont public libraries are held in those serving this population group. These libraries spent an average of $3.07 per capita on their collections, as compared to the state average of $3.40.
- 22% of all visits to Vermont public libraries are to those serving 2,500-4,999 population. These libraries also account for 20% of the circulation and 26.5% of the interlibrary loans received.
- Several libraries serving 2,500-4,999 population were "net interlibrary loan lenders" – Charlotte, Derby, Fairfax, Georgia, Hinesburg, Norwich, and Stowe - supplying more to other libraries than they requested from other libraries.

PUBLIC LIBRARIES SERVING 1,000-2,499 POPULATION

There are 72 libraries serving populations between 1,000 and 2,499 in Vermont. 39% of the libraries in the state fall into this category. Data from the library in Benson (pop. 1,037) was received too late to be included. Libraries not submitting data this year are not included; they are the libraries in Danby, Concord, and Orwell. The library in Lunenburg/Gilman closed this year.

Some significant facts:

- 6 libraries serving populations between 1,000 and 2,499 are located in school buildings. Combined public-school libraries (“community libraries”) are in the towns of Cavendish, Fairfield, South Hero, and Wolcott, while Chittenden and New Haven maintain separate public and school libraries in the same buildings.
- 11% of Vermont’s public librarians holding MLS degrees work in libraries serving 1,000-2,499, and 17% of all public library staff work in these libraries which also engaged 33% of the total volunteer hours in 2004-05.
- The average per capita tax support for these libraries is $15.63, with a range of $0.41 (Derby Line and Moretown) to $159.66 (Killington). The state average of public libraries receiving tax support is $15.78. Several libraries do not receive any tax support at all, including those in Barnet/McIndoes, Bethel, East Craftsbury, Newfane, and South Ryegate.
- The average per capita total expenditure is $24.34 for libraries serving 1,000-2,499, with a range of $1.15 (Moretown) to $159.66 (Killington). The state average is $24.27.
- 24% of the books owned by Vermont public libraries are held in those serving this population group. These libraries spent an average of $3.46 per capita on their collections, as compared to the state average of $3.40.
- 14% of all visits to Vermont public libraries are to those serving 1,000-2,499 population. These libraries also account for 13% of the circulation and 26% of the interlibrary loans received. "Net interlibrary loan lenders" were libraries in Barton and Danville.

PUBLIC LIBRARIES SERVING UNDER 1,000 POPULATION

There are 34 libraries serving towns with populations under 1,000 in Vermont. 18% of the libraries in the state fall into this category. The smallest populations served year-round by libraries are Westminster (271), Hancock (367), and Pittsfield (pop. 425). Two libraries are only open in the summer – West Burke (pop. 367) and Plymouth (pop. 580). Data from the library in Waterville (pop. 700) was received too late to be included. Libraries not submitting data this year are not included; they are the libraries in East Burke, Guildhall, Walden, and Whiting.

Several libraries in this population range serve seasonal populations (e.g., Greensboro, Middletown Springs, North Hero, Peacham) which makes their populations swell far beyond 1,000 at certain times of the year and accounts for their higher percentages of registered borrowers.

Some significant facts:

- Three libraries serving under 1,000 are combined school-public facilities (“community libraries”) – those in the towns of Readsboro, Stamford, and Woodbury.
- 2% of public librarians holding MLS degrees work in libraries serving populations under 1,000, and 3% of all public library staff work in these libraries. Many are run completely by volunteers who average a total of 292.5 hours per week.
- The average per capita tax support for these libraries is $11.24, with a range of $0.43 (Plymouth) to $63.55 (Stamford, a community library). The state average of public libraries receiving tax support is $15.78. Libraries in West Burke and Tinmouth do not receive tax support although their towns do offer tax support to libraries in neighboring towns (Lyndon and Rutland, respectively). The library in Westminster does not receive tax funds, but the town does appropriate funds to Westminster West Public Library to serve the whole town.
- The average per capita total expenditure is $22.95 for libraries serving under 1,000, with a range of $0.32 (Plymouth) to $75.70 (Greensboro). The state average is $24.27.
- 7.5% of the books owned by Vermont public libraries are held in those serving this population group.
- 2.5% of all visits to Vermont public libraries are to those serving under 1,000 population. These libraries also account for only 2% of the circulation and 5% of the interlibrary loans received. Only the library in Greensboro loaned more books on interlibrary loan than it borrowed.
